MORLAND'S METHODS

YOUNG WIDOW WITH CHARMS TO SELI

and in Pressing Need of Cash His Ba to Catch Gudgeons, and it Seems That the Fishing Thereabouts Was Good.

LONDON, Feb. 24.-Maitland Francis Moriand, the law tutor of Oxford, who was arrested on February 13, charged with blackmailing anumber of wealthy miversity, was brought up on remand, yesterday morning, at the Row street police court. The court room was rowded with young lords and other eavy swells. Edwin Francis Stanhope, tenth ear of Chesterfield, who is 37 years of uge, and a great swell, was among the first received a letter identical with the one eceived by Lord Hothfield. The letor referred to was worded as follows My Lony: I am a very young widew; my unshaud died in India, a fortnight after the marriage My annuity, though not large, it undirenet for my wants, but it will not bear the sufficient for my wants, but it will not bear the strain of snoth w's debts; hence my writing to pour borbship. I became security for an object downwan, and the cannat pay. I am tall and graceful, with perfect figure, and in festures I am like the Princepo of Wales. My house large, well appointed, in the best part of Oxford, and your lookship, and I come to now the part. ecording to circumstance, followed by thers, containing threats of exposure, awants, etc., unless money was forth-loning, and, in some cases, the pris-mer actually brought suit against ne of the young fordlings. Lord Ormathwaite was the next witness called. His evidence was similar to that of Lord Chesterfield.

Counsel representing Lord Lindsay. ke Earl of Carnavon, and the Earl of Aviesford, also testified to the fact that their clients had received similar let-iers. Connsel also produced in evidence papers in an action supposed to have been brought by a certain "Ruth Mor-land," against Earl Russell, the center of interest in the recent Russell vs. Russell divorce suit in which he de-

The sait of Ruth Morland against Eart Russell was for £100, half of loaned by the plaintiff to the defend-ant. The remainder of the sum, it upears, "Roth Morland" claimed as due for the delivery of certain letters The earl received the threatening leters on the evening of his marriage, in thich the writer threatened to confess to Earl Russell's bride the fact that he had committed adultery with the writer, and also to publish certain let-ers unless the £100 was baid. Mr Lewis admitted that Earl Ruseil had written certain letters to Mor and and, he added, these letters were n the possession of the police. Rev. Dr. Biggs, junior proctor of Oxford university, was the next witnessed called. He said that the attention of the university authorities had been called to the matter by an article which appeared in the Truth. He called upon Mr Morland to question Merland, he continued, told him that "Mrs. Maitland" was a handsome and wealthy nihilist who was anxious to obtain the sympathy and influence of the most exalted people in England, and who carried her devotion to the cause of minilism to such extent or ex-treme that she would no doubt, in Morland's opinion, offer her lovely person to a nobleman who would assist her to attain the great aims which she was of a somewhat different though almost of as startling a nature. It was to the effect that the prisoner had in 1874, been sentenced to a year's imprisonment with hard labor for perjury.

Rev. R. Holden, of Oxford, corroborated Dr. Briggs. He said in addition that us a result of the junior proctor's inquiries, by. Dr. Holden, had issued an order forbidding the undergraduates from visiting the prisoner's residence. Mr. Thomas Arwall, the postmaster of Dyford, was the next witness examined. He said that owing to representations made to him by the univer sity authorities, he had declined to deany letters addressed to "Mrs.

Lord Hothfield was re-examined, and in answer to questions put to him, said he had never seen the prisoner except in the dock, and that he had undertaken his prosecution in the interests of the public Applause from the lordlings in court, which was gently suppressed by the magistrate, who re-marked, addressing Lord Hothfield): "Your lordship has done the public a service. There ought to be a fresh charge against the prisoner of demanding money by menaces. The prisoner will be remanded for a week." Morland was then removed i tody, frowning savagely at Lord Hoth-field as he passed from the prisoner's dock to the passageway leading to the

IND PAYS A SHORT VISIT TO A SISTER

His First Formal Welcome to That City-A Reception and a Big Shake.

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 24. - Grover Cleveland, accompanied by Hon. Don M. Dickinson, ex-Gov. Campbell, R. W. a small contingent of Gilder and prominent Michigan democrats, started out yesterday morning in Presiden Ledyard's private car for Toledo, where Mr. Cleveland made a visit to his sister, Mrs. Bacon, returning to Detroit at 2:30 yesterday afternoon. The return was made the occasion of the first formal greeting extended ex-president in Detroit. At Michigan Central depot the party was met by a reception com-mittee headed by Acting Mayor Coots, who in a brief speech welcomed Mr Cleveland to Detroit, and presented resolutions of welcome adopted by the ommon council at a recent meeting. The whole party was loaded into carriages and under escort of a full regiment of the state troops was escorted to the home of ex-Postmaster General Dickinson where they rested phlic reception to Mr. Cleveland at the Hotel Cadillac last night, the streets in the neighborhood of that place were arowded for two squares in every direction, with people auxious to get a glimpse of Mr. Cleveland and shake his hand. Police officers had their hands full keeping the crowd in order, which relieved itself of its enthusiasm by reeated and unanimous inquiries as to what was the matter with Cleveland.

Inside the hotel the scene was a bril-East one. The immense office, club rooms and ladies' parlor had been con-converted into a reception room which was thronged by the flower of the Michigan democracy, officers of the ante troops and military officers from Fort Wayne long before,

Mr. Coreland appeared from the pariors above. Prior to the public reeption a private one was given in the residential parlor to the more notale politicians of the state and promient visitors from other states.
At So clock the receiving party took p positions between the ladies' parlor up positions between the indies paraor and the lobby of the hotel and the crowd, which had up to that hour, been held in check by the police, was admitted four abreast. Fully 7,000 peo-ple shook hands with Mr. Cleveland before II o'clock, when the doors were closed and the receiving party with lrew to Mr. Dickinson's home.

The reception was entirely informal, and there was no speech-making beand the individual greetings. During he day Mr. Cleveland persistently re used to be interviewed on the subject of the action of his supporters in New York. He said he did not propose to mix polities with pleasure. He did not deny that he and ex-Gov. Campbell, of Ohio, talked politics during their visit here. Mr. Dickinson thinks that the risit has made Michigan solid for Cleve protecting commerce it was proposed to put in the hands of the department of agriculture the power to appoint inspectors to be stationed along the line of every railroad, and who could be stationed at every railroad, and who could be stationed at every polling place. He (Mr. Bate) could not vote for a "Trojan borse" with a belly full of partisan inspectors. He objected to the government time reaching its long, heny hand down into the bowole of the hody politic, and eviserating it. If, as stated in the report of the senator from Nebruska (Mr. Fadock), 23,000,00 pounds of hogs lard had been displaced by the cheapar article, known as compound lard, that simply carried to his (Mr. Bate's) mind the suggestion that the price of frying material had been reduced to the poor trong ten cents to six cents per pound, and this bill was designed to put the price back to ten cents. All these bills were of the same breed. They all looked to the "Old flag, and an appropriation." There were too many spys and informers in the government service now. Mr. Coke (Tex.) opposed the bill, as impracticable. If passed it could not be enforced, because congress would never appropriate the requisite amount of money and the people would never submit to its provisions. Mr. Padock declared the cetimate of the sontor from Tennessee (Mr. Bate), as to the cost of administering the law to be utterly extravagent, and gave his own estimate at $50,000. At 435 p. m. the senate, on motion of Mr. Platt, went into executive session, and at 440 adjourned until to morrow. SLYE'S SENTENCE.

BORROWERS AND INVESTORS. Gun, Alger as the architect and builder. In his speech the Ohio governor made a good point relating to the new tariff law H said:

When the Nation wanted the tariff revised on protection lines in 1888 it called the Republican party into power to do it, and that party did it to stay, not one page of it can be respealed in ten years. At the present rate the present Congress cannot repeal it in twenty-live years. They have stanted in to ropeal item by item and there are 2,500 items in it. Morrison tried it and disappeared from Congress; Malls the disappeared from Congress; Malls the disappeared from the Speakership: Grover Clovoland started out to shear that sneep and came back shorn, and now Springer is trying it. You cannot make wool free on the sheep's back and tax it on our backs. Protection must be for all or none. No man or woman in Michigan knows of them knows if he a bleesing.

We can compete with the world on equal terms, but we give the nations nother to night that we do not propose to bring the conditions down to theirs. They tell us they want free raw materials; we nover had anything except raw materials under Democratio rule. There has never been a line of manufactures setablished in this country which the Democratio under Democratio rule. There has never been a line of manufactures setablished in this country which the Democratio party has not said could not be marufactured. They said we could not make pearl buttons. I visited a pearl-button factory in this city to-day supplying 200 hands receiving $16 per week, against $7 per week in England for the same work. They told us we could not make tanjate; at least, they did before election. We have heard not good at since.

The A. D. S. Club Give a Charmin Dancing Party Last Night.

The members of the A. D. S. club gave delightful dancing party last evening at Mrs. Sedgwick's dancing parlors. It was the last dance before the Lente eason and the program consisted of sotillion, which was led by Miss Anni-Rainey and Bob Hays. Mesdames Charles Lytle and F. L. Hays presided at the favor tables. There were eight figure in the cotillion, a handsome favor being given for each figure. Among them wer ribbon rosettes, Viennese ware and Haviland china. Among the figures were the whip, garter, football, cake and apple. The apple was used for the first time in Decatur. After the cotillion the entire party repaired to Wood's parlors, where an elaborate oyster supper was served.

Those present were Misses Annie Rainey, Hammer, Josie Hurwood, Anna Stroben Nell Schroeder, Bertha Rose Edith Lytle, Laura Paxton, Lola Mont gomery, Louie Boyd, Eugenia Harris, Warren, George Mathews, Jos Perkins, Kyle Bohon, Drs. McKinnon and J. D. Moore, George Lytle, Dick Roberts, Charles Barnes, Thad Schrosder, Bob Hays, Ed Powers and Leo Heiltold its readers of a great enterprise on oot—the construction and operation of n air line electric railway from Chicago o St. Louis, the distance to be covered within three hours. The accompanying cut of one of the cars to be used was designed by the company. It will be seen that it is constructed to out the wind and make things lively for such obstructions as stock, street curs, wagons and even steam railway cars that may be in the way. The idea of running a heavy train of freight or passenger cars by electricity from Chicago to St. Louis inside of three hours may seem absurd at this time, but when we consider that it is within the last haif dozen years that electricity has come into use as a motive power, the thought that it shall be harned not be surprising. That the projected route is no rattle-bained lides, as some may imagine, is evidenced by the list of stockholders who ered within three hours. The accom-

College Club Concert. The jolly vocalists and talented mus cians from the Illinois college at Jacksonville filled their engagement at the 22-d3t Grand last night and gave a concert which was received with manifest pleasure by an audience that was not large in numbers, but was enthusiastic in applause. It was an evening of song by college young men, whose voices were fresh and well trained. They wore in good harmony in the concerted selections, and the soloists acquitted themselves oleverly. The instrumental selections by the Mandolin club found great favor with the audience, and the specialist, J. A. Barber, came in for his chare of the honors of the evening, E. B. ECHOES ON THE BIG FIRE Jondition of the Safes — Steam Bakery Will Resume Business

It is settled that the Library block will be rebuilt. The Steam Bakery safe was broken open yesterday, as the comomation would not work. All of the edada hoog er erew ereppe pun E4000 out were slightly water souked. The Smith, Hubbard & Co safe was filled with water The books are O K The Western Union safe will be removed as nabes edd ne litte et tl. eldræcog en neos Smith, Emblard & Co have secured a le iso on the Loeb Kuitting Pactory building for a term of seven years. They have taken possession and have begun to issue orders for goods. The Steam Bakery company will resume business as and as possible. They want larger quarters. Only a few weeks ago Mr A W Conkin was talking about having a special building erected. The Decatur Lusiness College is still out of smitable rooms They may be had over the Linn & Scrugge establishment, where the library was once located. The public library books saved from the fire have been removed to the basement of the old Presbytorian clurch Due notice of the reopening of the library will be given Several insurance adjusters have arrived

ONLYH One Week More!

End of Ferriss & Lapham's Great Clearance Sale Approaches.

Three weeks of February have passed and gone. In those three weeks the Ferriss & Lapham Shoe Store did more business than in the entire month of February, 1891, and last year the February business was thought to be something to be proud of.

The explanation of this unprecedented increase is not hard to find. The Great CLEARING SALE that was inaugurated in January has proved to be the biggest kind of a success, and although every department was overstocked, that the other dealers had to almost suspend business for a month. Ferriss & Lapham haven't made any money on the goods, but the boots and shoes have been converted into cash and the people have had a benefit. So that nobody is kicking except the rival dealers.

The Prices were Put Down to Such Low Figures

Now this is to remind the people that this Great Clearing Sale will last only one week more, as the annual invoice is taken March 1, and all winter stock must be cleaned out by that time. There will be some rare bargains this week for the prudent purchasers and the earlier you come the better assortment you will find.
